

We deliver shows that our audiences love to watch and talk about

This year, Sky will deliver an epic slate of new shows and returning favourites. From heart-stopping dramas, eye-widening documentaries, smash-hit comedies and world-leading arts, entertainment, and original film.

As a business, we invest an eye-watering amount in content every year. Excluding our sports rights, Sky spends over £500m annually on our own UK produced programming.

And that investment is truly paying dividends - people love what Sky produces. In the last year, we had 24 BAFTA nominations and 6 wins; and Sky Arts won Broadcast's Specialist Channel of the Year.

Joy To The World

Twelve-year-old Mikey Collins, who's dirt-poor and hates Christmas, finds two Santa Clauses in the woods. One has just robbed a bank (James Nesbitt) and is on the run with the cash, the other Santa (Timothy Spall) claims to have fallen out of his sleigh. Mikey is determined to get his hands on the bank-robber's cash, convinced that this is the answer to giving his family the Christmas they all crave. But as Mikey risks everything for the loot, he comes to realise that maybe the spirit of Christmas is alive after all...

"Considering the ups and downs of the last few years it's no wonder the nation is in need of more than a little bit of light relief. The research shows we're all craving more laughter and our 2023 slate at Sky aims to remedy exactly that. From new original comedy and entertainment series, such as Gary Neville's The Overlap on Tour and Rob & Romesh Vs, to stand-up specials and the best laugh-out-loud shows from the US, our amazing roster of comedic talent ensures we've got something for everyone at Sky this year."

“This year we are showcasing some of the most distinct and provocative original storytelling, featuring a compelling line-up of UK and international talent both in front of and behind the camera. From propulsive action series to nostalgic, crime-soaked thrillers, to incredible prestigious dramas inspired by real events, there is truly something for everyone on Sky in 2023.”

Meghan Lyvers, Director of Original Drama, UK and Ireland at Sky Studios

A Town Called Malice

A Town Called Malice

Set amongst the beach clubs and palm trees of the Costa del Sol in the early 80s, A Town Called Malice follows the Lords, a crime family of petty thieves, as they decamp from London to Spain to profit from an unexpected windfall – and to escape the attention of the police in a high-profile murder enquiry. Strongly driven by music, A Town Called Malice's beating heart is the sound of the 80s.

The Lazarus Project (S2)

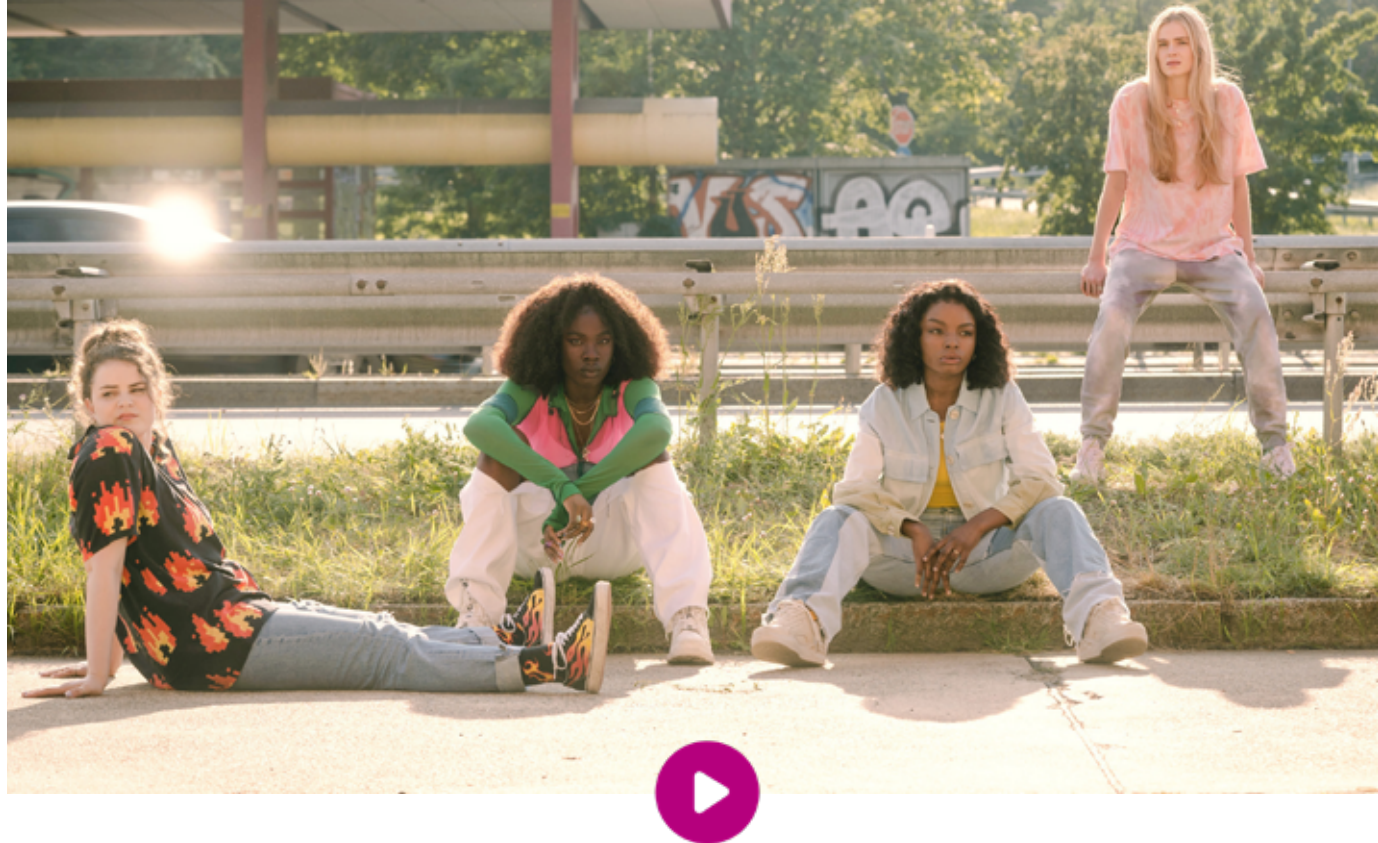

The Lazarus Project are back for series 2, and this time the stakes are higher than ever before. When George and the team find themselves stuck in a loop in which the world ends every three weeks, they will have to find a solution before Earth implodes for the final time and wipes out humanity forever.

Then You Run

Then You Run follows a close-knit group of rebellious London teenagers on a getaway in Rotterdam – but after the estranged father of Tara (Leah McNamara) is discovered dead, they find themselves on the run across Europe with three kilos of heroin and a host of deadly criminals snapping at their heels.

COBRA: Rebellion (S3)

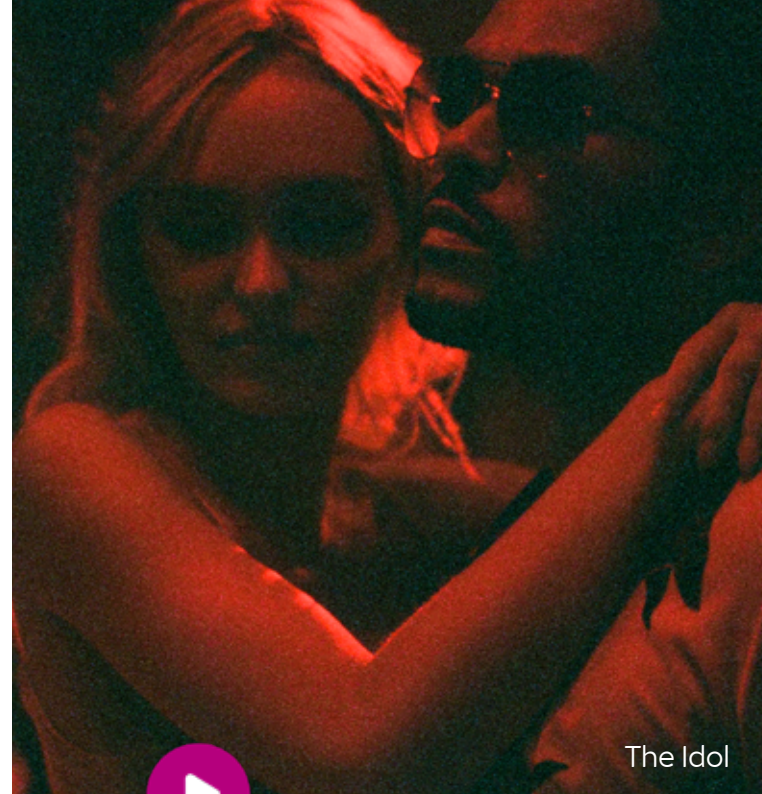

In COBRA: Rebellion, we find Prime Minister Robert Sutherland (Robert Carlyle) and his government faced with a new crisis – a sinister rebellion from within. In a fraught climate where extreme eco-protests, arms deals and shadowy corporate security firms collide, Sutherland is forced to question everything, including what he is willing to sacrifice to remain in power.

Succession (S4)

Succession explores themes of power and family dynamics through the eyes of patriarch Logan Roy (Brian Cox) and his four grown children. In series four, the sale of media conglomerate Waystar Royco to tech visionary Lukas Matsson (Alexander Skarsgård) moves ever closer. The prospect of this seismic sale provokes existential angst and familial division among the Roys as they anticipate what their lives will look like once the deal is complete.

The Idol

The Idol

From the sick and twisted minds of Sam Levinson and The Weeknd, starring Lily-Rose Depp; the series is set against the backdrop of the music industry and will focus on a self-help guru and leader of a modern-day cult who enters into a complicated relationship with a rising pop idol.

The Lovers

The Lovers

The dramedy will follow the journey of the love-struck, oddly paired duo, Seamus and Janet, played by Johnny Flynn and Roisin Gallagher. When Seamus unexpectedly drops into Janet's world they instantly clash – and yet also find themselves inextricably drawn to each other... Set in Belfast, this is a sexy, funny, fight-y love story about two people who appear to be utterly wrong for each other – yet may just be utterly right.
